Question (Deacon) Mark

Why doesn't the Catholic Church allow other Christians to receive communion when they visit us for weddings and funerals? If we go to their religious services, they allow everyone to receive.

The word communion in and of itself provides the fundamental reason as to why we do not offer the Eucharist to non-Catholic Christians. By partaking of this sacrament, we not only profess belief in Christ's real presence (which many of our separated brothers and sisters do not acknowledge), but also our commitment to this essential part of the Creed: that we are called to be one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. During the Last Supper, Jesus prayed that his followers would be one, just as he and the Father are one (John 17:21). That is what communion is all about: when we receive the Body and Blood of Christ, we not only come into union with our Lord, but also with the other members of his Church. Throughout the history of salvation, God called his people into communion with him not merely as individuals, but as a community. God redeemed Israel by bringing them out of Egypt as a unified nation; he assembled them at the foot of Mount Sinai to receive the Law (Exodus 19:17); they gathered together for the dedication of Solomon's Temple (1 Kings 8:2); they assembled after the Exile for the dedication of the restored temple (Ezra 6:21). In Jesus' time on Earth, the Jews came together for the great feasts such as Passover and Pentecost, in addition to assembling weekly at their synagogues – a tradition that was immediately carried over into the Christian Church.

The importance of unity for Christianity cannot be overstated. As history has amply pointed out, there is strength in numbers, and we are easily defeated when we try to go it alone. When Christians have separated themselves from the Catholic Church, they have almost invariably fallen into heresy, losing some important aspect of the fullness of faith that often multiplies with the passing of time. Our separated brothers and sisters have not only lost the comfort of Christ's real presence in the Eucharist, but many of their congregations have rejected ancient Church teachings regarding critical moral issues, at times embracing the mainstream culture's viewpoint on issues such as divorce, human sexuality, contraception, abortion and euthanasia. Without the leadership provided by the Vicar of Christ, many Christians have strayed far from the fundamental teachings of the faith. Our recent popes have made extraordinary efforts to reach out to the leaders of non-Catholic denominations in an effort to bring our fragmented Church back together. Until such time as we are again one Body of Christ, we cannot take communion together, for by doing so, we would be celebrating a unity that does not yet exist. As we are reminded before the distribution of Holy Communion at liturgies such as weddings and funerals, we are all to pray constantly for the eventual unification of the Church, so that as Christ desired, we may truly be one with him and one another.

Have a question about Catholic teachings? Please email deaconmarkkuhn@gmail.com with your topic, which we will address in a future bulletin with your permission.

Rite of Christian Initiation

The next RCIA meeting will be on Wednesday, October 21st at 6:30 PM in the Trinity Center. The topic will be: God the Father .

Book of Remembrance

A Book of Remembrance has been placed in the vestibule of the church, in which you may enter the names of your family and friends who have gone before us in death. This book will be carried in procession to the altar on November 2nd at the 7:00 p.m. Mass of the Faithful Departed. It will remain on the altar during the month of November, as we pray for all the souls in purgatory. May their souls and all the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God rest in peace.

OLGC School Highlight

The beginning of October has been a very busy time at OLGC School. The month began with Fire Prevention Week and a visit by the Southampton Fire Department. Children learned fire safety tips from firefighters. Always remember to stop, drop, and roll!

In OLGC tradition, Father Kilgallon visited our youngest students to bless their special animals in honor of the Feast of Saint Francis of Assisi.

A beautiful Living Rosary was performed on October 7th to honor Our Blessed Mother. Students in grades one through eight led the congregation in prayer. Our Lady of the Rosary, pray for us!

FOOD DRIVE for local food banks & Aid for Friends
In his homily at the Cathedral Basilica, Pope Francis asked all of us "What about you? What will you do?" OLGC continues to collect non-perishable food items to support the Southampton Food Bank at Jesus Focus Ministry on Bristol Rd as well as making of "breakfast bags" for Aid for Friends. So, we ask you to purchase one extra item a week while grocery shopping - bring it to Church on Sat/Sun and put it in our marked box in the back of Church. Jesus taught us to "Feed the hungry" - while we can't solve all of the world's problems, we can help the 1,700 people served by the Food Bank each month.
